EXPERIENCE | GENERAL ASSIGNMENT REPORTER; HOUSTON PUBLIC MEDIA

SEPTEMBER 2017 - PRESENT

As a full-time freelancer for News 88.7, I covered everything from the environment to politics, health, science and education. I filed spots, readers, and feature-length stories, reworking my radio content for use on digital platforms. I frequently covered breaking news events live online.

FREELANCE PRODUCER

2015 - PRESENT

In addition to tape syncs for several institutions and newscast spots for NPR, I regularly file for Texas Standard, a state-wide news program, and Red River Radio, a public radio station in Shreveport, LA.

PODCAST PRODUCER; TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY WRITING CENTER

AUGUST 2015 – AUGUST 2017

I was the sole reporter and producer for Write Right. Communication and linguistics wasn't the easiest beat in the world, but I quickly learned how to take abstract, complicated topics and create compelling, narrative-driven explainer pieces. I also maintained all digital materials for the podcast, including visuals, file hosting, and RSS distribution.

INTERN; WBUR

SUMMER 2016

On the WBUR newscast team I reported, produced and edited audio, and wrote copy for the hourly newscast. I would frequently assist WBUR reporters in the field.

INTERN; TRANSOM.ORG/ATLANTIC PUBLIC MEDIA

SUMMER 2015

I reported and produced original work for the Sonic IDs series on WCAI. Each piece is a short, 1-minute long piece that highlights the stories of Cape Cod locals, giving the broadcast a community-oriented sonic identity. I also produced feature-length news stories for WCAI and helped maintain the Transom.org CMS and other digital content.
